THE BUYER

The buyer is responsible for the performance of maintenance as required by the operating and maintenance instructions for the equipment in which the product is being used.
Industrial Brake & Friction Supply cannot deny warranty solely for failure to perform scheduled maintenance. Industrial Brake & Friction Supply may also deny the warranty coverage if the product or associated part has failed due to abuse, neglect, improper maintenance or unapproved modifications.

DEFECTIVE MATERIALS

Alleged defective materials must be returned to Industrial Brake & Friction Supply at the buyer's expense for examination, unless agreed in writing that this is not required.
Should the product have failed in the application, then the product in question, and any other associated components and information, must be returned to Industrial Brake & Friction Supply for examination in order to ascertain the cause of the failure.

CLAIMS

Where a timely claim is made, Industrial Brake & Friction Supply will at its option and expense either replace or repair any goods which are defective or nonconforming under its warranty or refund to the buyer the purchase price. Industrial Brake & Friction Supply will ship repaired goods or replacements to the buyer without charge.
